

User Groups Save Lives!

Have you recently implemented C2M or CCS? Do you long for process improvement in the areas of automated service orders and smart asset management? Do you simply want to learn more about Oracle's "integration of integrations" product Service Order Management (SOM) and/or Operational Device Management (ODM)? If so, take action now! Join the SOM and/or ODM user groups today!

Learn from peer utilities that have similar business requirements, have implemented the products already, or are getting ready to start the same journey that you may be staring in the near future. The key to successfully implementing these products is to collaborate and learn in ways above and beyond the formal Oracle documentation and training.

Please note, these are each separate user groups from the existing MDM and CCB user groups.

Please Join Now!

The more people that participate, the better the quality of the discussion. Plus it's just more fun!

Registration is easy! To register for either user group, click the button below to send an email to info@trinityconsulting.com to sign up for the group and be sure to include:

- » Group to join (ODM and/or SOM)
- » Your name
- » Utility
- » Email address
- » Current Oracle Utilities products

Our next meetings will be in mid to late October, so register today!

These user groups are a great vehicle to accelerate understanding and how to best leverage Oracle systems. User groups offer the following benefits:

- » Collaboration with peers
- » Increased visibility to the Oracle Roadmap
- » Communication of critical open SRs that might also affect your project or production operations
- » Frequent guest appearances from Oracle Product Management
- » Participation in something better than yet another Zoom Happy Hour
